—Wanted—all kinds of Fur. Will pay the best market price.

—AB. McGUIRE, Jackson, Mo.

—Born, to Henry C. Koehler and wife, two miles northeast, a fine bouncing girl. All doing well.

—If you want any guttering or plumbing done, see S. T. Daley, located east side of public square in the old Macke shop.

—The good crowd of farmers in town Saturday forgot the newspaper offices. Nothing special on hand to interest the farmers.

—Big line of all the latest and newest things in Belts, Hand-Bags and Ladies' Neckwear at Bruening & Kerstner Dry Goods Co's.

—Julius and Albert Sachse and Ed Boren, son of Dick Boren of Appleton, had business with probate court here Saturday.

—Dr. and Mrs. Joe Howard and babies, of Oak Ridge, attended the 'mum show here last week, and remained till Saturday before going home.

—Henry Mills of Blodgett was in town over Sunday. Mr. Mills says he can buy goods in Jackson for much less money than in Blodgett. So much for Jackson.

—S. B. Holcomb, photographer, will locate at New Madrid. Mr. Holcomb is a good photographer. He married one of our Jackson girls, hence will succeed anywhere.

—Auction sales do not go well here. Morgan & Ranney did very little at auction last Saturday. But they sold goods, anyhow, and will continue to sell cheap till all is gone.

—J. W. Hunter and the Ranney sisters have had their lawns nicely graded and set in grass, a substantial task. Some purchased from Sander Bros. placed in front, and others from grand old wife, running the entire length of the front of their property. These improvements add much to the beauty and worth of the property. John Tucker will be a regular put in the annual show.

—At the 51st Show last Thursday afternoon, Betty Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Wilson, and Richard Wagner, the only boy at the home of Martin and Bessie Wagner, won first and second honors as prettiest babies in one class, and the baby boy of Mrs. Theodore Obermiller got a prize in another class. All the babies at the show should have had prizes, but there were not enough prizes to go around. Mrs. Kate Schmuke won the prize for being the most popular mother-in-law in the county. We believe the prize was well placed.

—Get your Lady's Cloak or Suit during the next week, and get a fine pair of Kid Gloves free, at Bruening & Kerstner Dry Goods Co's.

—Born, last Saturday, to J. E. Schmuke and wife, a young Democrat. Joe says he has all the signs necessary to make him a good legislator.

—Frank Medley played well the part of the "millionaire" in "Down in Maine" Friday night—probably because life among us plutes is so catchin'.

—Dave James and wife, north of town, brought in a load of produce Saturday and took the proceeds in goods from our merchants. That makes business.

—Mrs. Trentis Miller and two children, of Sikeston, who had been visiting the family of J. H. Miller, near Millerville, for the past few weeks, returned home Saturday.

—Paul John, infant son of John H. and Rosa E. Sachse, died Monday at 1:45 a. m. Funeral services were conducted at the residence Tuesday by Rev. M. T. Haw. Interment was in the city cemetery.

Dropsy— Given up by Doctor

"I had dropsy, and was told by my family physician that there was no chance for me. My family also gave me up. My limbs and body were swollen, and I felt larger than usual. Water collected around my heart and I had to be propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy until I was entirely cured. This was in 1902, and I am now able to do any kind of work on my farm. My cure was certainly marvelous."

L. TURLEY CURD,
Wilmore, Ky.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been wonderfully successful in relieving heart trouble. Its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles is a great factor in assisting nature to overcome heart weakness.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

—On the corner by Obermiller's restaurant, about 10 o'clock Saturday night, A. P. Behrens was startled by the extremely vociferous yells of a child, apparently from the interior of the otherwise silent and dark Methodist church. He had heard the cries for some time, but thought they were from a residence near.

When he learned the source, he crossed to the church, accompanied by others drawn by the noise, and discovered that the building was threatened with demolition by the efforts of a small boy, mysteriously locked within, to get out. While naturally there was nothing at all funny in the situation to the panic-stricken little fellow, his efforts to identify himself were very entertaining to his would-be rescuers. One or two remained to comfort and reassure him, while Mr. Behrens rushed off and "searched the town" by telephone for a key. One was finally found, and on the door being opened the little prisoner clung to the first man like a squirrel to a windy limb. Brought to the light, he resembled the chief actor in a slaughterhouse. He was covered with blood, having evidently found his way about the church with his nose, and that vigorously. After joyfully declaring that "his papa would sure give Mr. Behrens a great big dollar for this" he made known that he was Charlie Redgood, that he had gone to sleep while the orchestra was practicing, and they had locked him in and gone away, not knowing he was there. He was delivered to his very anxious dad while the latter was on his way to the church in the forlorn hope of finding him there. He had screwed up his courage mightily after liberation from the fearsome shadows of that dark church, but his "big, brave papa" was necessary as a bed-fellow that night, and together they fought off the scary thoughts several times before they were finally routed by the glad sunrise.
